Sink Hollow Releases 2020 USU Creative Writing and Art Contest Issue

USU’s undergraduate literary journal, Sink Hollow, has just published the 2020 Contest Issue. The issue is all the more important in this pandemic year since it is the only way these wonderful writers and artists’ work can be celebrated since the usual reading of the winning work at Helicon West in April had to be cancelled. So check out the issue! And if you read something or see a work of art that moves you, please reach out to the artist or writer to let them know how great it is!