Newest Issue of Sink Hollow Published

The newest edition of Utah State University's undergraduate literary magazine, Sink Hollow, has been published online. This magazine is open to original submissions from any undergraduate writers or artists worldwide. Students can submit writing from several genres, including non-fiction, fiction and poetry. Selected undergraduate art pieces are displayed alongside these pieces.

Though the submission window has closed until spring 2022, students can apply to internships with the Sink Hollow team or begin gearing up to submit for the next reading period.
