

Farewell to 668 CHaSS grads, you'll do great things

05/31/2018

CHaSS Dean Joseph Ward greets new graduates and their families at a luncheon in the Nelson Field House following commencement. About 1,500 people stopped by to share congratulations and indulge in Aggie ice cream.

The College of Humanities and Social Sciences recognized 668 graduates for the year 2017-18 and sent them out into the world to make it a better place.

The most popular degrees were social work with 82 grads; English with 81; communications studies with 59; and sociology with 58.

Dean Joe Ward expressed his pride for the students' accomplishments. "I wish them the best," he said, "because if they go out into the world with curiosity and energy and a commitment to doing the right thing, they'll be successful no matter what path they end up on."

Scroll down to see a gallery, and scroll down even more to see what degree program had the most graduates.

(Hint: It wasn't German or philosophy or American Studies.)

Totals of diplomas awarded in each degree program

Degree	Graduates in 2018	Graduates in 2017
American Studies	3	5
Anthropology	29	25
Asian Studies	7	4

Degree	Graduates in 2018	Graduates in 2017
Criminal Justice (associates)	19	24
Communication Studies	59	49
English	81	105
French	2	4
Global Communications	19	19
German	4	1
General Studies	14	16
History	53	47
International Studies	28	15
Interdisciplinary Studies	26	44
Journalism and Communication	43	48
Law and Constitutional Studies	15	11
Liberal Arts	30	30
Philosophy	9	9
Political Science	51	39
Religious Studies	10	5
Sociology	58	45
Social Work	82	74
Spanish	26	26
Total graduates	668	645